The workshop on Git/GitHub & Open-source was held on 18th September 2022 at the Department of Computer Science and Engineering, SVNIT. The workshop kicked off with attendees receiving a free Gitcheatsheet provided by GitHub in collaboration with ACM. Before the start of the event, students were mailed an installation guide on Git/GitHub along with a basic overview of the technology. The event was presided by ACM speakers Vishvesh Trivedi and Snehharsh Belsare, who addressed a crowd of over 120 students from SVNIT. The workshop included understanding the concept of version control systems, introduction to Git basic and advanced commands, introduction to GitHub, and a brief overview on the world of open-source contribution. It was an interactive workshop where ACM Moderators were present for live doubt solving to ensure a smooth code-along process.

It is a global movement introducing tens of millions of students worldwide to computer science, inspiring kids to learn, breaking stereotypes, and leaving them feeling empowered. It aims to explain the importance of Computer Science in our daily lives and in various fields, to students of class 9 to class 12, through presentations conducted in virtual mode. Apart from this, we also encourage the students to gain more knowledge in the Computer Science field. This year ACM executives visited schools of Surat like SD Jain, SVP, Essar International, Alchemy and Navrachana School, Vadodara and conducted an hour-long programming activity for the students during 5th-11th of December.
